HP PC766A Legacy Dock Lock

Secure your HP dock

K64084

Product Description

Peace of mind in an instant. This handy cable lock device attaches itself to your hardware and is then secured to an anchor point in your workspace, ensuring your hardware remains exactly where it should. Guards against the additional cost associated with the deployment of replacement equipment. The security cable is made from high grade steel and provides your hardware with maximum protection from theft. With your PC secured to a fixed object you can be confident that the valuable data it contains also remains safe.
